

For the Republic.
The Red, White and Blue.
Our national flag is unfurled in the breeze.
It is gallantly floating o'er lands and o'er seas;
While thousands on thousands of brave men and true
Are rallying under the red, white and blue.
Oh! woe to the foeman who dares to withstand
The vigor and strength of our patriot band,
Sustained by the prayers of the faithful and true,
While battling for right 'neath the red, white and blue.
The secession minions who failed in their trust;
And trail the flag of our land in the dust,
Must be taught it were better far, far to be true,
To the flag of our union the red, white and blue.
Fear not for the union the ever must stand,
Sustained by our noble and patriot band,
The rainbow flag shall have nothing to do,
But strike to the colors of red, white and blue.
Vandalia, Mich.

Cream Versus Cod-Liver Oil.

During a few years past, "cod liver oil" has been the great popular panacea for consumption; tens of thousands of barrels of so-called cod liver oil have been sold at enormous prices, and consumed. We say "so-called," for it is quite certain that a very large proportion of the material sold under this name has been mainly lard oil. This little fact has been done by the deception, except by the cheat involved in selling for $1 per pint bottle, an article costing less than $1 a gallon.

There is no doubt that thousands of cures have been effected by the use of both the pure cod-liver oil, and the spurious lard oil. Faith in the article (that is in the label on the bottle, and in the advertisements of the sellers) has in many cases dispelled fear and started the patient on the high road to health; while the real nourishment afforded by the oil is often just what is needed by the dyspeptic patient suffering for lack of nutriment. Indeed, it is believed that to the carbonaceous elements of the oil, which are essential to the good respiration, is mainly due the benefit that has been derived from the much lauded cod-liver oil.

Acting upon this belief, one of our first physicians, Dr. Alonzo Clark, who is, perhaps the highest authority of our city, has proposed the use of pure, sweet cream, as a substitute for the oil. Cream is essentially an oil, very similar in its composition to the cod liver oil, lard oil, and others of like character, while it is far more palatable, and vastly cheaper. The Medical Reporter says that a consumptive patient, now under treatment is taking cream with better effect than was experienced under the cod-liver oil previously tried. Our advice is, for all who have, or think they have consumption, to adopt a cream diet. Eat the pure, sweet cream abundantly, as much of it as the stomach will digest well. Eat it alone, on bread, with baked sweet apples, and at every meal. Eat it believing it will cure, and we no doubt that it will prove quite as effective as the purest cod-liver oil that can be bought. —Agriculturalist.

Useful Receipts.

BREAD APPLE CAKE.—Well butter a tart-dish of any size, about three inches deep, cut some slices of bread a quarter of an inch thick, which lay in it so that the bottom and sides are quite covered, stew some apples nearly dry, put them on the bread until the dish is full, cover over with more butter and bread, and bake in a hot oven for half an hour; remove it from the dish; turn over, and dish it up with sugar on the top. —Soyer.

APPLE BUTTERS.—Peel and slice crossways, a quarter of an inch thick, some apples, remove the core, and dry them one after another in the following manner:—Put in a basin about two ounces of flour, a little salt, two tea-spoonsful of oil, and the yolk of an egg, moistened by degrees with water, stirring all the while with a spoon, till forming a smooth consistency, to the thickness of cream; then beat the white of the egg till firm, mixing it with the butter; it is then ready to fry; use any fruit as fritters. If no oil, use an ounce of butter previously melted, adding it to the batter before the white of the egg is used. —Id.

BUTTERED APPLES.—Peel, slice, and core one pound of apples, put into a frying-pan about two ounces of butter, add the apple, and cover over with two ounces of pounded sugar; put them in the oven until done. A very nice dish for children. When done, they may be dished up on a nice crisp piece of toast with sugar over. —Id.

YEAST.—Boil one pound of flour, a quarter of a pound of brown sugar and a little salt in two gallons of water for one hour. When milk warm bottle and cork it close. It will be ready for use in twenty-four hours.

DR. HOOFLAND'S BALSAMIC CORDIAL FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF Coughs, Cold, Influenza, Croup, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Diseases of the Throat, arising from Cold, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief and (if at all possible) cure of Patient in advanced stages of the latter disease.

The Balsamic Cordial is entirely a Vegetable production, combining the healing properties of the Balsam, with the invigorating qualities of a Cordial, producing a combination so well adapted to the purposes intended, that there are but few cases of disease which will not, at an early period, succumb to its healing and life giving properties.

For ages, has the treatment of pulmonary diseases occupied the greater portion of the attention of the science of the medical world, but none acquired more eminence in his treatment of these diseases, than the celebrated Prussian Dr. Hooftland, the originator of the Balsamic Cordial. His life was devoted to the production of remedies that would stand unrivaled. How well he has succeeded, the American people are able to judge, and we positively assert, that no preparations that have ever been placed before them, have conferred the same amount of benefits on suffering humanity, or have elicited so many commendations from all classes of society, as the remedies of Dr. Hooftland, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson & Co., of Philadelphia.

The Cordial is designed for a class of diseases more general and more fatal than any other to which the people of this country are subject. These springing from a "sight cold." That eminent authority, Dr. Bell, says: "I will not say that Colds are to our inhabitants what the Plague and the Pestilence are to the rest of the world, but I can say confidently that they usher in disease of greater complexity and mortality than these latter."

The Proprietor in calling the attention of the public to this preparation, does so with a feeling of the utmost confidence in its efficacy and adaptation to the diseases for which it is recommended.

It is no new and untried article, but one that has stood the test of a twelve years' trial before the American people, and its reputation and sale are unrivaled by any similar preparations extant.

The testimony in its favor given by the most prominent and successful Physicians and Surgeons, and all parts of the country is immense, and a careful perusal of the Almanac, published annually by the Proprietors, will convince every one of its merits. Its agents, cannot but satisfy the most skeptical that this remedy is really deserving the great celebrity it has acquired.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not testify to the benefit he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thereby contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to "Hooftland's German Bitters," prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shumaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of these Bitters.
